

HOW DO I GET ACADEMIC HELP?!

There are a variety of resources to help when you're feeling like you need more help in a class. Use this guide to decide which step or steps you can take to improve on your success! They are all here for YOU!

TEACHERS

Contact your teacher directly when you are struggling as they are the best source of help for your particular classes; teachers are often available before and/or after school.

MATH LRC

The Math LRC, room A307, is staffed by a math teacher every period of the day; this is an excellent option to get help with math-related questions.

PEER TUTORS

The School Counseling Office compiles a list of upperclassmen who will be able to help with specific subjects. Contact your School Counselor to set up a time to meet with a peer tutor during a study/free time or before/after school.

FAST (Friday Academic Support Time)

Every Friday you are welcome to come to the Library from 7:30-8:30am. National Honor Society students and other adults are available while staff/teachers are in professional development, to help students who are struggling or need extra time for their studies. Brochures are available for information on the FAST program.

ACI (Assignment Completion Initiative)

In our Learning Resource Center (Library), you can complete assignments or tests either during a free time, a study hall, or even during a class with teacher permission.

5th Hour Study Time

This is often an under-utilized time to complete assignments and/or receive help from peers or teachers. By simply asking your teacher, you can arrange to receive the help you need during those twenty minutes.

ELL Assistance

Mr. Pillard is available during 5th-7th hour for those students who may be learning English as an additional language. Speak to your teacher or Mr. Pillard in order to determine an appropriate time to receive help.
